

ROUTE 40 National Road

Travel the National Road and you will experience a glimpse of America's past. The 90-mile route cuts through the southwest corner of Pennsylvania and gives travelers a glimpse of the revolutionary events that took place along its corridor. Stop by a historic tollhouse to learn about travel in the mid 1800s, discover key French & Indian War events at Fort Necessity National Battlefield, Braddock's Grave, and Jumonville Glen, and sit back as you take in some of the nation's most beautiful countryside. Every spring there is a National Road Festival that celebrates the first federally funded highway. Don't miss this fun event that features encampments, arts and crafts, food, historic tours and a period wagon train that travels the historic road.

ROUTE 30 Lincoln Highway

The Lincoln Highway is the nation's first coast-to-coast highway and it passes right through the Laurel Highlands! There are many quirky stops, interesting works of art and historic places that dot its roadside. Enjoy this "Main Street Across America" that showcases quaint small towns, shopping, entertainment, dining and more. Your first stop on Route 30 should be the Lincoln Highway Experience, a museum of the historic road that tells the cross-country transportation story, shares exhibits with cool artifacts, highlights the kitschy "Roadside Giants," murals and more. The stops along this highway are neat, but in this case the route itself is the ultimate destination. Enjoy the ride!

ROUTE 711 Laurel Highlands Scenic Byway

A trip along the 68-mile Laurel Highlands Scenic Byway in southwestern Pennsylvania is exactly that...scenic. From rolling hillsides to rushing waterfalls, picturesque farmlands to architectural wonders, the Laurel Highlands Scenic Byway has it all. Home to some of the best biking and pedestrian trails in the nation, take your time along this byway. Pull the car over and get a closer look at the charming town of Ligonier. Park near the great waterfalls at Ohiopyle State Park and enjoy a hike or leisurely stroll. Make a check on your bucket list by stopping at one of the most well-known attractions in the world - Fallingwater®, Frank Lloyd Wright's architectural masterpiece over a waterfall. The beauty of nature makes this route a must year-round.
