History Comes Alive

Wilmington and the Brandywine Valley are rich with history. Early settlers date back to the 1600's and the area offers some of the finest examples of 18th and 19th century living in the region. Use the examples below to create your own itinerary or visit them all. Most attractions are within a 10-mile radius of each other.

Delaware History Museum

Learn about the history of the First State at the Delaware History Museum, located in a renovated Art Deco Woolworth store in Wilmington, with three galleries of changing interactive exhibits including displays of rare items of everyday life, costumes, children's toys, regional decorative arts, and paintings. Note: The Delaware History Museum is closed for renovation and reimagination through March 2016.

Read House and Gardens

Take a walk through the past at the Read House in historic New Castle, a 22-room Federal-style mansion where elegant and spacious family parlors contrast with cramped servants' quarters, advanced cooking systems show the owner's fascination with technology, and several rooms are restored to capture the gentility of the Colonial Revival movement and the gaiety of the Roaring '20s.
